Kids miss out on free fruit and veg

By NEIL DOCKING

Almost 1,500 eligible mums in East Lancashire are not claiming hundreds of pounds worth of free fresh fruit, vegetables, milk, and vitamins for their children.

Healthy Start is a Government scheme aimed at pregnant mums, and families on low incomes with babies and small children.

It provides vouchers that can be spent on fresh fruit, fresh vegetables and milk, as well as coupons that can be exchanged for women's and children's vitamins with the NHS.

If women apply for the scheme as soon as they are 10 weeks pregnant, they could get up to £93 in vouchers during their pregnancy.

For a baby's first year they could receive up to £322 in vouchers, and children over one and under four years old could get more than £161 in vouchers for each full year they are on the scheme.

Around 2,500 women are currently taking advantage of the offer from NHS Blackburn with Darwen, but there are another 384 who are yet to apply.

And while NHS East Lancashire has 3,799 women enrolled, another 1,034 have not signed up.

Sanam Asghar, a registered public health nutritionist at NHS Blackburn with Darwen, said: "The vouchers can really help women and families with the costs of eating a healthy, balanced diet and we are very keen to encourage first-time pregnant women who might not yet be aware of the scheme to sign up."

A Healthy Start roadshow is due to visit The Mall, Blackburn, today (Thursday), from 9am to 5.30pm.

It will offer information and a free pack of vitamins.

To find out more, or whether you qualify, visit www.healthystart.nhs.uk

Caitlin, 12, knee-ds us in shorts!

Blackburn Rovers have thrown their weight behind a 12-year-old girl's campaign to raise money in memory of her dad.

Caitlin Jones, of Somerset Avenue, Darwen, is spearheading the 'Show Your Knees For Nigel' day on February 12 – the second anniversary of her father's death from lung cancer. The idea is that people donate £1 to the East Lancashire Hospice to wear Nigel's favourite item of clothing – shorts – for the day.

FUND: Caitlin Jones

Already schools across Blackburn with Darwen, market traders, and several companies have pledged to take part.

And Caitlin's mum, Tracy, is hoping the influence of Premiership footballers will encourage more on board.

She said: "Sam and the players were wonderful with Caitlin. I hope young lads will now be encouraged to get involved in the appeal.

"My only worry is that it will be too cold for shorts.

"But I'm sure people will get round it by wearing them over tracksuit bottoms."

Plucky Tommy just brushes aside years

PARTY TIME: Tommy Holden is still going strong working at the age of ninety

By SAM CHADDERTON

A pensioner celebrated his 90th birthday – at work!

Tommy Holden started at Lancashire Saw Company Ltd at the ripe old age of 67, and has worked his 8am-noon shift five days a week ever since.

He even got on his usual bus from Great Harwood during the recent bad weather, determined to fulfil his sweeping duties at the Imperial Mill factory, in Gorse Street.

Boss Stephen Bentley threw him a surprise 90th birthday party, with his family and the 45-strong workforce in attendance.

The sprightly birthday boy looked stunned as he was led into a room where guests were waiting to surprise him. He gave his 87-year-old wife Evelyn a big hug and told the Lancashire Telegraph he was 'overwhelmed'.

He said: "I wouldn't know what to do with myself if I wasn't working. When I first retired I just wandered around the house and went off on walks."

Mr Bentley said: "He turned up last Tuesday even though it took him two hours to get here.

"He's a remarkable little guy, fit and well and comes into work when everyone else around the country was saying the snow was too deep and the roads were too icy.

"I don't think anyone else in the country does what he does. He even runs to catch the bus at the end of a shift."

Tommy's work ethic has not gone unnoticed – Blackburn MP and Justice Secretary Jack Straw has asked after him in his birthday week.

Mr Bentley said: "Jack asked me for a chainsaw – probably to cut half of the cabinet! I mentioned Tommy and he has since sent a hand-written letter asking about him.

"Tommy packed it in at 80, saying his wife wanted to spend more time with him.

"We said our farewells, but he was back a month later saying 'my wife's getting on my nerves!'. Everybody loves him and thinks he's fantastic."

Firemen rescue 2 in Haiti quake

By CATHERINE PYE

Lancashire firefighters have saved the lives of two people trapped beneath the rubble in Haiti.

A 60-year-old man and a 40-year-old woman were rescued by the team on Saturday after three-and-a-half days beneath collapsed buildings in the devastated capital Port-au-Prince.

The group of eight men from stations including Blackburn, Burnley, Euxton, and Chorley, tunnelled for up to seven hours to reach the casualties, who are said to be recovering well.

John McKie, of Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service, who is leading the team in Haiti, said the 40-year-old woman, rescued from a building close to a supermarket, was suffering from dehydration and had pressure sores. "The teams worked for three to four hours on the extrication," he said.

"A 60-year-old man has also been rescued who was in bed at the time of the earthquake. Once located, it took the team six to seven hours of tunnelling to reach him."

The team arrived last Friday and is part of the UK International Search and Rescue team with six other units from across the country.

Their equipment has now arrived in Port-au-Prince and they have access to four US helicopters for reconnaissance. Mr McKie confirmed they had experienced aftershocks of the quake, which hit the Caribbean island on Tuesday last week, but they had not caused any problems on the ground.

The Lancashire team – Andy Hayes, John McKie, Mark Southworth, Graham Mossop, Stuart Hardacre, Mark Monkhouse, Stuart Howarth and Andy Barnes – are all safe and are continuing the rescue operation.

Reports of gang violence and widespread anger are not said to be affecting their efforts.

ON ITS WAY: The new Darwen Leisure Centre under construction

Leisure car park fears

By CATHERINE PYE

Town centre roads could become gridlocked when the new Darwen Leisure Centre opens next week because of a lack of parking, councillors claim.

Councillors Dave Hollings and Dave Smith said the 56 spaces provided at the new £12.7million development, off Green Street, were inadequate for the thousands of users it will attract. Coun Hollings said: "There is not enough space for the number of people who will be using it.

"There are two places nearby that could be used for additional parking: a grassed piece of land between James Street West and Borough Road, and gravel land where a pre-fab building has been demolished at the top of Police Street.

"Myself and Coun Smith have been suggesting these plots to the council for months, but the council has shown no interest.

"There is potential for the roads to become gridlocked by the number of users and lack of parking spaces."

Town councillor Smith said: "There will definitely be problems. The health centre is meant to be sharing the parking, and they're already oversubscribed, so I don't know how it's going to work.

"The decision to have a sports hall at the centre will also put more pressure on the situation. It wouldn't be so bad if it was just a pool and gym, but the coalition knew all about this when they decided to have it, and don't seem to want to look at ideas for more car parking."

Parking woes

Parking problems, especially at schools, are among items up for debate at Baxenden Area Management Council meeting at St John's Primary School, Church Avenue, on February 4, at 7pm.

Tributes to campaigner

By CATHERINE PYE

Tributes have been paid to a 'pioneering' campaigner for older people's rights.

John Davis, a director of Hyndburn Community Network, former chairman of Hyndburn Over 50s Forum, and chairman of You and Old United (YOU), died earlier this month aged 73.

Since 2002, he dedicated his time to improving the lives of older people by collecting information on services, setting up activities and holding meetings with authorities and younger people.

YOU member Arthur Bateman said: "John really moved things on for the over 50s in Hyndburn.

"He really was a pioneer, but his main aim was just to do better for the older people of this area and to bring them some pleasure."

A highlight of Mr Davis' work was the launch of the Older People's Day on October 1 last year, and also a week of activities in Hyndburn for the Full of Life campaign.

Barbara Sharples, Hyndburn Community Network manager, said: "John was a real gentleman and brought a special blend of professional experience to the board of the Network."

PIONEER: John Davis was a champion for older people

Mr Davis, of Russell Close, Great Harwood, died suddenly on January 6.

An inquest will be heard in March to establish the cause of death, but he had recently been suffering from pulmonary fibrosis, a condition affecting the lungs.

He was passionate about food and, after a career in the Merchant Navy and driving coaches, he began managing restaurants, including the Five Acres Club, in Yorkshire, the Punch Bowl in Hurst Green, and the Calf's Head in Worston.

Daughter Jaydee, 24, said: "He was a brilliant family man who would do anything for anyone.

"He never stopped working for the older people of Hyndburn.

"He used to say that if he could give anything back to the community, he would do."

He leaves wife Pam, daughter Jaydee and son Danny, 30. His funeral was held on Wednesday at Accrington Crematorium.

Local lovely in top beauty show

By EMMA CRUCES

An A-level student is swapping her books for the semi-finals of Miss England.

Seventeen-year-old Amber Hazelton wrote off to competition organisers when she was just 15, and forgot all about the contest when they replied that she was too young.

But her mum, Pam, said she was ecstatic when she was called before this year's regional heats, inviting her to reapply now that she was old enough.

The Blackburn St Mary's College pupil, who has represented Lancashire in the under-14 and under-16 national netball championship teams, is currently studying A-level photography, textiles, and PE, and hopes to take a degree in photography and become a fashion photographer.

Amber has won heat four of the Miss Fresh Photographic regional competition, which has won her a place in the Miss England semi-final at Champneys leisure resort, in Leicestershire, in June.

The former Oakhill College pupil, of Hollins Lane, Accrington, has already won £500 worth of prizes, including designer swimwear and free membership of an online casting and audition service. She said: "I couldn't believe it when the organisers phoned me up telling me to reapply. It's brilliant that they'd even remembered me.

"I didn't think I would win this heat at all and I was over the moon when I did. It's been fantastic."

Mum Pam said: "There have been thousands of girls who have applied for this and she's just over the moon that she's managed to get to the semi-finals."

Coleen's focus is on fitness

Singer and presenter Coleen Nolan was born in Blackpool and now lives in Cheshire. The 44-year-old rose to fame as part of her sisters' group, The Nolans, and has since appeared in Celebrity Fit Club, This Morning, Dancing On Ice and Loose Women. She is married to Ray Fensome, and they have a daughter, Ciara, eight. Coleen also has two children from her previous marriage.

FIVE MINUTES WITH ...COLEEN NOLAN

YOU HAVE A NEW FITNESS DVD OUT. HOW DOES IT COMPARE TO ALL THE OTHERS?

It very much differs from the others on the market because it's my third one and the first two were about me trying to lose the weight. The first one I really wanted to lose the weight for the wedding, and the second one was kind of Dancing On Ice-orientated. When they asked me to do a third one, I said, "Okay, but I'd like to do it as real as possible; how I would want to do it." I like the size I'm at now; a 12.

WHAT'S BEEN THE HIGHLIGHT OF YOUR CAREER?

Oh God, there have been so many. I mean obviously I love Loose Women; that's been fantastic for me, so I'll always be grateful for that. On something I've challenged myself with, I suppose it would be Dancing On Ice, because it was something that I always said I'd never do; not because I didn't want to. I used to say: "I haven't got the nerve to do that". The fact I did do it was kind of like, wow!

HAVE YOU GOT ANY ADVICE FOR THE LATEST DANCING ON ICE CONTESTANTS?

I would just say all you can do is your best. A lot of people get hung up on the judges, or winning the competition.

Lights can be fantastic!

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

The beginnning of a new year is one of the most popular times for homeowners to revamp their home.

And on these dark, cold nights you can conjure a feeling of warmth and cosiness by throwing light on improvements. Clever use of lighting can transform dull, harshly-lit rooms into intriguing spaces, and minimise unsightly corners.

New lights can dramatically change the look and feel of a room, and bring spaces alive. Often all it takes is small changes to lighting to completely alter the atmosphere. It's about being imaginative and playing with light and shade, so that different 'zones' are created in a room by the way it's lit.

An open-plan kitchen dining area could have lights for the working, practical area on a dimmer which can be turned down low when an adjustable descender light highlights the dining table.

A string of twinkling fairy lights on a mirror over a mantel could instantly make it a feature. A huge room with high ceilings could 'shrink' and feel more intimate in the evenings if lit by several types of small lamps, displayed individually, or in groups, so that corners of light are created.

The unlucky vicar
Have you heard about the 'unlucky vicar?
Who drove down the motorway with too much liquor.
Shame on you sir,you should set an example,
Nearly four times over the limit after giving a sample.
Thinking God was on your side you jumped in your car,
Thee who spent to much time at the bar.
That the Almighty was to deliver a terrible blow,
As down the M25 the vicar did go.
An off duty policeman in a chase did engage,
And pulled over the drink driver from the vicarage.
Blow into this bag,oh my God 125
Microgrammes of alcohol in the vicar, on the M25.
The Archbishop of Boozebury bowed his head in shame,
When he heard one of his vicars had lost his good name.
The lesson is clear don't drink and drive,
Especially if you're a vicar on the M25
